In Celebration of the Life of

Winnifred Mae Running Horse—Plumman

Poem for Grandma

Known for your generosity, your wisdom and love,
Now will be shared, as you shine down from above
Gone from this world, yet forever near,
A guiding spirit, in our every tear.
Your sweet laugh, your calm eyes,
To say you were always an angel, is not a surprise.
The warmth of your heart, your gentle touch,
Your welcoming smile, we will miss so much.
You would not like to see us sad,
so what we will try to do.
Is live a bright and happy life,
In the memory of you.
Rest now, let your peace begin,
We love you forever, until we meet again.
